

Beyond Easter

There's plenty to love about eggs, bunnies, and chocolates, but Easter Sunday holds a much deeper meaning. Yes, this highly anticipated holiday offers an opportunity to gather with family, but it can be so much more. On Easter, we remember the love Christ showed humanity when he gave the ultimate sacrifice on our behalf. Christ is risen from the dead, so we truly have reason to celebrate!

While this special day offers a valuable reminder and reason to celebrate, it should by no means be the only day on which we show our gratitude. After all, this holiday regularly changes dates in our modern calendar, reminding us that the essence of Easter is not exclusive to one single day. Let's explore why the spirit of Easter is worth celebrating year-round — and how to incorporate the holiday's message into your daily life.

The resurrection story can be told throughout the year, for it is always imbued with a deeper meaning. This story forms the essence of our faith; we know that, in Christ, death can be defeated and give way to everlasting life. By remembering this throughout the year, we can find relief from the burden of sin, as well as greater joy in the blessings of everyday life. Christ's resurrection gives us a reason to live not only for today, but to sustain hope in our future, no matter how difficult the circumstances we currently face.

While Easter calls our attention to Christ's remarkable sacrifice, we should never lose sight of Jesus' willingness to give his life for our sake. While it is important to honor Jesus on Easter, our efforts should continue throughout the year. We can do so by regularly reading the Bible, gathering with others for fellowship, and showing gratitude for the myriad of blessings in our lives.

God loves us even though we continue to sin — and through God's love, we are transformed. While it's impossible for any mere human to achieve this level of unconditional love, we can do our best to emulate Christ's example, even when this proves challenging.

Think of Easter as your faith-based New Year's resolution. This is your opportunity to fully embrace the power of prayer. Strive to incorporate prayer into your daily life. Short prayers throughout the day will keep you grounded in your faith as you establish a closer connection with God.

The story of Christ's triumph should play a central role in your biblical study and reflections throughout the year. Not sure where to start? Check out Luke 24:1-8, John 21:13-17, and Mark 16:1-8. If you feel inspired, take notes in the margins of your Bible or record your reflections in a dedicated journal.

In addition to rereading passages about Christ's resurrection, take time to examine verses about the apostles' ongoing efforts to spread the word about this miracle. Let passages such as Acts 4:33 inspire you: "With great power the apostles continued to testify to the resurrection of the Lord Jesus. And God's grace was so powerfully at work in them all."

How much time do you set aside for fellowship? Unfortunately, many do lead incredibly busy lives and show up to church for Easter Sunday and Christmas. Easter should not serve as a minimum threshold. You will find far greater benefit in gathering with fellow disciples on a regular basis. Traditions such as communion provide a powerful reminder of Easter's message, long after we've forgotten.

Spring lends itself to a greater consciousness of the idea of Easter. During this Eastertide season, we are surrounded by new beginnings and a fresh sense of optimism. As time goes by, however, that begins to give way to a less conscious way of life, and eventually, cynicism. To celebrate Easter year-round is to keep the hope of that special day alive, even as the seasons change.

This Easter, go beyond the eggs and candy to find a deeper, more meaningful experience. You can find great hope and fulfillment in Christ's remarkable feats on Easter Sunday and throughout the year.

Peace,
Rev. Eric

There is no charge to the students for this excursion. It is a gift from the Joan Quimette memorial fund, for which we are grateful!

Bittersweet Transitions

As many of you already know, I'll be moving on shortly – tackling the new challenge of Deputy Town Clerk in Manitowish Waters, with the intention of stepping into the Town Clerk position when Dana Hilbert steps down at the end of the year. While it is an exciting opportunity, it is not without some sadness that I leave my role at MWCPC.

I moved to the Northwoods from Chicago on November 30, 2021, and reported to MWCPC for my first day of training at my new job the following day, December 1! It was a whirlwind, to say the least, and it's been a fascinating, rewarding, meaningful – and, at times, challenging – experience along the way.

The best part of the job is, hands down, the people. You took the time to greet me, to welcome me, to include me, and I will carry that with me long after I turn the key in the lock for the last time. Thank you for that!

My departure comes at an interesting time, as we're in the process of transitioning to a new software program – one that seems to have greater capabilities than our current program and which will likely make communicating with members of the church a more streamlined process. I'm also unsure what form the newsletter will take in the future.... My hunch is that some physical correspondence will still exist, but we might also implement a weekly (or bi-weekly) mini-newsletter in a digital format to help communicate news and other important information in a more timely manner. These are exciting possibilities that will continue to develop after I've left.

You won't get rid of me that easily, though, as I still plan to remain somewhat active in the life of the church – as a deacon, a bell choir ringer, a Show & Tell founder (more on this later in the newsletter!), and a concerned member of society! In a more practical sense, though, I'll still be here (in my current capacity) for a couple more weeks, and I've offered to stay a bit longer, in a limited capacity, to make sure that the basic admin responsibilities are met and to help train a new admin assistant should one be found in the near future. On that note, be on the lookout for the official job posting in the Lakeland Times and Rhinelander River News, as well as on the website. If you're interested in more information and/or applying, please contact Pastor Eric: pastorericipeterson@gmail.com. We'd love to hear from you.

Finally, a special thank you to Joyce Hoehn, Kay Krans, and Dave Vogt, who were instrumental in hiring me; Lois Bauers, whose patience, sense of humor, and specific knowledge throughout my training – and since then – is second to none; and to all of you for sharing your time, your stories, your laughter, and your lives with me. It's been a privilege to be on this journey with you. See you on the flip side.... Heather

Earth Day

Earth Day, honored since April 22, 1970, turns 54 this year! This planet – the home we share with every other living thing – spins in its orbit in the vastness of space (specifically, our galaxy, the Milky Way, resides in the Orion Spur, a part of the larger spiral Orion Arm). And on this tiny pale blue dot (as Carl Sagan called it), we “strut and fret our hour upon the stage” through laughter and tears, joys and sorrows, triumphs and defeats, illnesses, recoveries, births, deaths, weddings, separations, heartaches, rejuvenations.

Think of all the battles the earth has seen, all the destruction and attempts to repair, all the bloodshed over man-made borders and grievances, all the poison and pollution poured into its air and seas. The struggle of give and take, of progress and regression, the heartbeats of the 8.1 billion people who currently populate the planet. We're but a blip – a moment – in time. I hope we will make ours a positive one.

Step One is acknowledging that the earth is worth protecting. Step Two is being mindful of our impact on it. Step Three is adjusting our behaviors accordingly. There are so many helpful resources for those interested in learning more about the planet and what we – as individuals and larger communities – can do. Check out www.earthday.org as a great tool for information, motivation, and actionable steps.

This just sounds yummy, so I'm including it here. I hope you've enjoyed the recipes in the newsletter – and have maybe even tried one or two! Don't forget.... Some of them can be found in the MWCPC Cookbook (available for just $15), including this one from Mid Sharpe!

CRANBERRY CHICKEN SALAD

(for a crowd, so maybe decrease the amounts!)

40 c diced, cooked chicken breast	10 t sugar
10 c sour cream	white pepper
4 c mayo	20 c grapes
10 T tarragon vinegar	5 c chopped cranberries
10+ t salt	6 c chopped cashews or pecans

Pat chicken dry, place on cookie sheets, sprinkle with salt and pepper, and bake at 400 for about 20 mins. Let cool and cut into cubes. Mix sour cream, mayo, vinegar, salt, sugar, and pepper. Fold in cooled chicken, grapes, and cranberries. Refrigerate a few hours (or overnight) before serving. Can garnish with the nuts. ENJOY!

With bated breath...

We wait with anticipation for some exciting new endeavors at MWPC!

Show & Tell: So many friends and members of the church have fascinating stories, experiences, or skills they'd like to share with us! Sue DeVan & Heather Suffron hope this will be a fun way to connect with one another and learn more about an interesting topic or talent. We will try to schedule one new Show & Tell Presentation each month, to be held in the Fireside Room during Fellowship Hour.

Mark your calendar for our first event, April 28, when Jim Bokern (one of our resident historians), will share some history of Manitowish Waters and what makes this area so special.

Stay tuned for subsequent presentations in the months ahead, including Kath Wilson (discussing her experiences with veterans of the 10th Mountain Division), Rose King (presenting a workshop on the craft of wood burning), and Jay Wolf (speaking about genealogy), to name a few. If you have a special passion you'd like share, please let Sue or Heather know!

Separately, the Membership & Communications Committee has been hard at work planning some exciting church-wide activities to help us connect with one another in a fun and safe environment, like game and movie nights, stargazing, snow-shoe baseball(!?)... all kinds of events for you to enjoy. Watch this space for further information in the months ahead!

2024 Offering Envelopes are here!

Check out the table in the narthex for your 2024 envelopes. If you don't see your name there, please see Heather.

2024 Pledge Sheets!

Vic reminds us to please make sure you've completed and turned in your pledge cards for the new year. This helps us plan our budget each year and know what income we can tentatively expect. Thank you!

Sharing a poem that Adele sent to me while she was on vacation recently. Food for thought, indeed. And speaking of Adele... Working in the office next to hers, I get a front-row seat to the magic that is Adele Duranso. Her creativity, energy, joy, and dedication to the kids and the youth group program is truly something to behold – and a rare gift. We have been blessed by her leadership, and it would be an understatement to say she will be missed in this role. THANK YOU, ADELE!

The Shoes (attributed to Leanne Freiberg)

I showered and shaved... I adjusted my tie.
I got there and sat in a pew just in time.
Bowing my head in prayer as I closed my eyes...
I saw the shoe of the man next to me, touching my own. I sighed.
With plenty of room on either side, I thought, Why must our soles touch?
It bothered me, his shoe touching mine, but it didn't bother him much.
A prayer began: "Our Father..." I thought, *This man with the shoes has no pride.
They're dusty, worn, and scratched. Even worse, there are holes on the side!*
"Thank You for blessings," the prayer went on. The shoe man said...a quiet "Amen."
I tried to focus on the prayer, but my thoughts were on his shoes again.
Aren't we supposed to look our best when walking through that door?
Well, this certainly isn't it, I thought, glancing toward the floor.
Then the prayer was ended, and the songs of praise began.
The shoe man was certainly loud, sounding proud as he sang.
His voice lifted the rafters... His hands were raised high.
The Lord could surely hear the shoe man's voice from the sky.
It was time for the offering, and what I threw in was steep.
I watched as the shoe man reached into his pockets so deep.
I saw what was pulled out... what the shoe man put in.
Then I heard a soft "clink," as when silver hits tin.
The sermon really bored me... to tears, and that's no lie.
It was the same for the shoe man, for tears fell from his eyes.
At the end of the service, as is the custom here...
We must greet new visitors and show them all good cheer.
But I felt moved somehow and wanted to meet the shoe man.
So after the closing prayer, I reached over and shook his hand.
He was old, and his skin was dark. And his hair was truly a mess.
But I thanked him for coming... For being our guest.
He said, "My name's Charlie... I'm glad to meet you, my friend."
There were tears in his eyes, but he had a large, wide grin.
"Let me explain," he said, wiping tears from his eyes.
"I've been coming here for months, and you're the first to say 'Hi.'
I know that my appearance is not like all the rest.
But I really do try to always look my best.
I always clean and polish my shoes before my very long walk.
But by the time I get here, they're dirty and dusty, like chalk."
My heart filled with pain, and I swallowed to hide my tears.
As he continued to apologize... For daring to sit so near.
He said, "When I get here, I know I must look a sight.
"But I thought if I could touch you, then maybe our souls might unite."
I was silent for a moment... Knowing whatever was said
Would pale in comparison. I spoke from my heart, not my head.
"Oh, you've touched me," I said, "And taught me, in part,
"That the best of any man is what's found in his heart."
The rest, I thought, the shoe man will never know...
Like just how thankful I really am that his dirty old shoe touched my soul.

Well, the wait is over. The first article about Fleazaar 2024 is here!

Here we go again! Another Fleazaar season beckons us out of hibernation.

We took in a large amount of merchandise from the Presbyterian Community Church in Lac du Flambeau when their thrift store had to close on short notice. It's sitting right where we left it, waiting to be sorted and boxed up, along with other items donated over the winter months. We plan to meet at the barns on the last two Saturdays in April (Apr 20 and 27) from 9am-12pm to get things prepped for our first official Donation Acceptance Day on Saturday, May 4.

I hope there will be enough people back in the area by mid-April to help with this project. Maybe, because of the strange winter we've had, people will be ready to air out their Northwoods cottages by then! I've made a commitment to take in some furniture on April 6. Not much out there yet, but that will change soon. With a little faith in God, and a lot of hard work, it should be another great year. Plan on a Fleazaar Meeting after the worship service on April 14.

My new and improved shoulder is getting used to my one finger pecking away on the keyboard, so I should be sending out an e-mail to all the regular volunteers shortly!

Denny (Head of All Things Fleazaar)

Food Pantry Update

Your donations are always welcome, but we're emphasizing the opportunity to contribute on Sundays the Youth Group is scheduled to sing.

The Mercer Food Pantry continues to need the following: mac & cheese, peanut butter, strawberry jam, and canned tuna. Please let Nan know if you're willing and able to deliver the donations we collect at church to the pantry in Mercer.

The Lakeland Pantry appreciated the sweat/athletic pants they received last month and will be happy to take more - especially in the larger sizes - though any size is welcome. This is the only current clothing need the pantry has, but they are also specifically looking for laundry detergent, fabric softener, dish soap, dishwasher detergent, and pet food. Larger bags of pet food are especially helpful, as volunteers at the pantry divide the food into smaller containers for distribution. All donations should be unopened and NOT expired, so please check those BEST BY and EXP dates before dropping off your items.

All donations are accepted at any time in the appropriate containers/bins in the Fellowship Hall. Thank you for your support!

Give Me Water Lord

Vic Hamer sends periodic updates from Kenya. He has visited a handful of the communities where GMWL has drilled and placed wells to make sure that things continue to run properly. In a recent message, he writes: "Jane and I traveled to Ilmanen to check on the Water Well Project. This well was placed at a primary school in 2022. There, I met with Daniel (a community member) and Eunice (the Head Teacher). They were both very happy to see us and reported the project is working in a good way and continues to provide clean water. Eunice said, 'Thank you for visiting us and checking on the well. By doing this, you are showing us that you love us. Some NGOs place wells but never return to check on it or visit with the people.'"

The Boulder Junction Community Food Pantry is looking for the following items:

Disinfectant	Itch relief
Hand sanitizers/wipes	Smoke alarms
First Aid items	Batteries
Alcohol wipes

You can place your donations in the appropriate container on the Missions Table in the Fellowship Hall. Thank you!
